This pdf will not be simple to start on reading through but extremely enjoyable to see. I have read and i also am sure that i will planning to read through again once more in the foreseeable future. You wont really feel monotony at whenever you want of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you request me).

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 48 pages. LC Number: KF26 . V4 2006m OCLC Number: (OCoLC)85836440 Subject: Data protection -- United States. Excerpt: . . . 11 the ultimate responsibility but it does empower the CIO with the authority he needs. This delegation restructures responsibilities and authorities for information security at the VA, bringing them together in one individual. It also is the first step in bringing about the cultural changes within VA generally, and more particularly, within IT at VA, that must occur. I have made it clear to all senior managers in the Department that information security, cyber security and the reorganization of the Office of Information Technology (OIT) are top priorities. These senior leaders know that every employee must be committed to ensure the security of veterans personal information. Performance evaluations and executive bonuses will reflect the leaders and employees level of commitment. When I commit to becoming the Gold Standard, I mean VA must be the best in the Federal Government in protecting personal and health information, training and educating our employees to achieve that goal. The culture must put the custody of veterans personal information first. . . over and above expediency. I expect nothing less. The IG Report has highlighted serious deficiencies. We have a plan for transformation. I realize, however, the recommendations contained in this report are just a start. Achieving our goal of leadership will require much more. I have reached outside our ranks and enlisted the assistance of leading experts in the field of data security to assist us in defining our path. With their guidance and VA resources, we will become the system for all other agencies to emulate. Training in the area of information and cyber security will be a...
